

Giants Defeat Braves and Hang Up New Tour Record With Seventeen Consecutive Victories---Yankees Lose

OLD MAN MATTY HELPS GIANTS TO MAKE NEW RECORD

Displays Form That Earned Him Worldwide Fame, and Shuts Out Braves.

HE GIVES NO GIFTS AND KEEPS SECOND CLEAN

Boston, May 29.—Old man Matty was the presiding genius of the seventeenth consecutive victory of the Giants, won this afternoon from the outplayed and outgamed Boston Braves by a score of 3 to 0. In all the time Mathewson has been pitching, from his early years and through and beyond the high tide of his skill to his present mellow old age—pitching old age that is—he never did a more nearly artistic job than this afternoon when he and his fellows shut out the Braves.

Handling the opposition was an appropriate way to celebrate a new big league record for consecutive games won on tour. In 1912 the Washingtons of the American League pitched consecutive games in succession, sixteen of them away from home. All of the Giants present seventeen consecutive games won on their own vine and fig tree.

Matty pitched with skill and ease this afternoon. He didn't use a fast ball often, but he made the ball curve and dip and skid past the Boston batters and he was constantly mixing his service so that the batters never knew what to expect. The curve of his ball was steady and with his change of pace and an infrequent splitter to distract them, he so preyed upon the batters that they couldn't time the ball at all. He came up to them. They were off balance, swinging too soon and lunging. It was merriment that Matty exercised upon the obedient Braves.

Matty Keeps Batters in Hole.
He kept the ball on the plate, had the batters in the hole quickly after they got up there and went through the game as a matter of fact. He was in the hole as he pitched, another fast workman, was Matty's opponent, the game went with a rush and lasted less than an hour and a half. Matty held the Braves to four hits, these four representing as many different innings, gave no bases on balls and no home runs, and pitched second base. He was pitching adjusted to the individual weaknesses of opponents and done with as much apparent effort as if he were breaking matches.

Just as he could keep busy and not lose interest in the entertainment Matty accepted eight fielding chances, seven of which were assists. His putout was a barehanded scooping of a ball pitched by a runner. A right fielder who had been Mathewson when the day was warm and his bones didn't crack too easily.

Rudolph was in pretty good form for the Braves and in all but two innings held the Giants with his speed and spittball. He too had a nice change of pace and a half. He held the Braves to four hits, these four representing as many different innings, gave no bases on balls and no home runs, and pitched second base. He was pitching adjusted to the individual weaknesses of opponents and done with as much apparent effort as if he were breaking matches.

Kauff Bats in Run.
Burns batted a hit at Red Smith in the first inning which was too swift for the Braves to handle. Robertson struck out, and Doyle grounded to Kauff, but to Kauff the idea of a mate being left on base was so distasteful that he singled down the first base line and brought Burns across.

Rudolph kept the ball scattered for the Giants to count in the six innings, enough twice the first man up to hit safely. The Braves weren't within hailing distance of the plate during this period or any other. For them the first man up never did occupy a base, except Marvane in the first inning on a fumble by Fletcher, and on Evers's grounder to Marvane. Fletcher doubled, and so quickly that his stay at first was for only a fleeting moment. Any time a Brave had the novel experience of getting on the base, he was out. He was forced or the New York infield rushed all borders back to the bench with a double play, of which compound rebuffs for the locals took place three times.

The seventh inning was attended with turmoil. There was a big kick and a penalized athlete. The biggest kick was the hitless man, Marvane. Eason waded him from the field. He was too obstreperous, his tongue wagged too freely and was not laden with home runs.

Pletcher opened this fussy inning with a hit. He moved along on Marvane's kick to second base. Marvane was out. McKeech hit to Rudolph, who threw to third to collar Pletcher had to be dug out of the ground by Smith. Fletcher sliding, and a cloud of dust made third base an animated corner for an instant, and when Eason called Fletcher safe the Braves ended in Marvane's error until told to vacate and be quick about it.

On Rudolph's job to Eason Fletcher was cornered between third and home, but he backed away from the other runners might move along.

YANKS WINNING STREAK ENDED BY CARL MAYS

Squat and Clumsy Right Hander Pitches Red Sox to Victory by Score of 3 to 0—Thomas and McNally Hit Hard.

Carl Mays, a burly, squat and clumsy appearing right handed pitcher with an underhand delivery, who last year did his bit toward winning a pennant and a world's championship for the Boston Red Sox, brought the Yankees' winning streak to an abrupt end yesterday afternoon. Mr. Mays, who makes a specialty of picking on Donovan's help—that goes too in spite of the rough treatment Carl received here Friday last—was a regular mauler to the home batters throughout the farewell battle at Brush Stadium. He shut them out with three hits by a score of 3 to 0.

Mays and his battery mate, Thomas, were the whole show for the champions of the world. Mays took mighty good care that the cosmopolitan crowd did not get even close to the home goal. Thomas pitched a dandy working margin for his battery mate. While the game was young and consequently more or less a matter of doubt said Thomas hit one of Slim Caldwell's choicest curves into the right field stand for a home. Some few rounds later he unlimbered a two bagger starting a round and was pushed the rest of the way for the run that double sweetened the Yankees to the shackles of defeat.

McNally Hits Considerably.
There was another gentleman of the red lined clan who should not be overlooked because he is young, ambitious, but not often favored of opportunity. This was substitute McNally, who understood at the bat for the veteran Jack Barry. Jack was suffering from some ailment at the source of his neck. He wasn't particularly missed. McNally got the first run for the Sox in the very first inning. He hit a double, and then, with one out he wormed a pass out of the somewhat fat Caldwell, stole second and rode home on Holtzclaw's single to left after Lewis fouled to Walters. It was McNally's fly to Caldwell that scored Thomas in the fifth. So, like Thomas, shared the glory in two of Boston's three runs.

After the third inning the Yankees didn't have a lookin. They scattered their meagre hits in the early sections, one to an inning. Mays's single in the first came with one out. An easy grounder and an easier fly followed. Pipp, who opened the second with a single, was caught napping by Thomas. Caldwell doubled, and then, with one out, he was trapped on the lines when Holtzclaw rapped to Mays. Only three Yankees saw first base thereafter, all of them in the last inning. Hugh and Walters walked in order with only one out in the fifth. McNally killed Caldwell's one try for a single. He got the ball a foot from second and started a double play. Mays stroked with one out in the ninth, but was forced by Baumann after Gordon fled to Walker. The score.

BOSTON A. L. NEW YORK A. L.
Boston, 3; New York, 0.
Philadelphia, 5; Washington, 1; 5 in. innings.
St. Louis, 2; Detroit, 1; first game.
Detroit, 12; St. Louis, 6; second game.

DETAILED STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

CLUBS	W	L	P	CLUBS	W	L	P
Washington	13	8	4	St. Louis	13	8	4
Cleveland	12	9	3	Philadelphia	12	9	3
New York	11	10	4	Pittsburgh	11	10	4
Detroit	10	11	5	Baltimore	10	11	5
St. Louis	9	12	6	Chicago	9	12	6
Philadelphia	8	13	7	Cincinnati	8	13	7
Pittsburgh	7	14	8	St. Louis	7	14	8
Baltimore	6	15	9	Washington	6	15	9
Chicago	5	16	10	Cleveland	5	16	10
Cincinnati	4	17	11	Detroit	4	17	11
St. Louis	3	18	12	New York	3	18	12
Washington	2	19	13	Philadelphia	2	19	13
Cleveland	1	20	14	Pittsburgh	1	20	14
New York	0	21	15	Baltimore	0	21	15
Detroit	0	22	16	Chicago	0	22	16
Philadelphia	0	23	17	Cincinnati	0	23	17
Pittsburgh	0	24	18	St. Louis	0	24	18
Baltimore	0	25	19	Washington	0	25	19
Chicago	0	26	20	Cleveland	0	26	20
Cincinnati	0	27	21	Detroit	0	27	21
St. Louis	0	28	22	New York	0	28	22
Washington	0	29	23	Philadelphia	0	29	23
Cleveland	0	30	24	Pittsburgh	0	30	24
New York	0	31	25	Baltimore	0	31	25
Detroit	0	32	26	Chicago	0	32	26
Philadelphia	0	33	27	Cincinnati	0	33	27
Pittsburgh	0	34	28	St. Louis	0	34	28
Baltimore	0	35	29	Washington	0	35	29
Chicago	0	36	30	Cleveland	0	36	30
Cincinnati	0	37	31	Detroit	0	37	31
St. Louis	0	38	32	New York	0	38	32
Washington	0	39	33	Philadelphia	0	39	33
Cleveland	0	40	34	Pittsburgh	0	40	34
New York	0	41	35	Baltimore	0	41	35
Detroit	0	42	36	Chicago	0	42	36
Philadelphia	0	43	37	Cincinnati	0	43	37
Pittsburgh	0	44	38	St. Louis	0	44	38
Baltimore	0	45	39	Washington	0	45	39
Chicago	0	46	40	Cleveland	0	46	40
Cincinnati	0	47	41	Detroit	0	47	41
St. Louis	0	48	42	New York	0	48	42
Washington	0	49	43	Philadelphia	0	49	43
Cleveland	0	50	44	Pittsburgh	0	50	44
New York	0	51	45	Baltimore	0	51	45
Detroit	0	52	46	Chicago	0	52	46
Philadelphia	0	53	47	Cincinnati	0	53	47
Pittsburgh	0	54	48	St. Louis	0	54	48
Baltimore	0	55	49	Washington	0	55	49
Chicago	0	56	50	Cleveland	0	56	50
Cincinnati	0	57	51	Detroit	0	57	51
St. Louis	0	58	52	New York	0	58	52
Washington	0	59	53	Philadelphia	0	59	53
Cleveland	0	60	54	Pittsburgh	0	60	54
New York	0	61	55	Baltimore	0	61	55
Detroit	0	62	56	Chicago	0	62	56
Philadelphia	0	63	57	Cincinnati	0	63	57
Pittsburgh	0	64	58	St. Louis	0	64	58
Baltimore	0	65	59	Washington	0	65	59
Chicago	0	66	60	Cleveland	0	66	60
Cincinnati	0	67	61	Detroit	0	67	61
St. Louis	0	68	62	New York	0	68	62
Washington	0	69	63	Philadelphia	0	69	63
Cleveland	0	70	64	Pittsburgh	0	70	64
New York	0	71	65	Baltimore	0	71	65
Detroit	0	72	66	Chicago	0	72	66
Philadelphia	0	73	67	Cincinnati	0	73	67
Pittsburgh	0	74	68	St. Louis	0	74	68
Baltimore	0	75	69	Washington	0	75	69
Chicago	0	76	70	Cleveland	0	76	70
Cincinnati	0	77	71	Detroit	0	77	71
St. Louis	0	78	72	New York	0	78	72
Washington	0	79	73	Philadelphia	0	79	73
Cleveland	0	80	74	Pittsburgh	0	80	74
New York	0	81	75	Baltimore	0	81	75
Detroit	0	82	76	Chicago	0	82	76
Philadelphia	0	83	77	Cincinnati	0	83	77
Pittsburgh	0	84	78	St. Louis	0	84	78
Baltimore	0	85	79	Washington	0	85	79
Chicago	0	86	80	Cleveland	0	86	80
Cincinnati	0	87	81	Detroit	0	87	81
St. Louis	0	88	82	New York	0	88	82
Washington	0	89	83	Philadelphia	0	89	83
Cleveland	0	90	84	Pittsburgh	0	90	84
New York	0	91	85	Baltimore	0	91	85
Detroit	0	92	86	Chicago	0	92	86
Philadelphia	0	93	87	Cincinnati	0	93	87
Pittsburgh	0	94	88	St. Louis	0	94	88
Baltimore	0	95	89	Washington	0	95	89
Chicago	0	96	90	Cleveland	0	96	90
Cincinnati	0	97	91	Detroit	0	97	91
St. Louis	0	98	92	New York	0	98	92
Washington	0	99	93	Philadelphia	0	99	93
Cleveland	0	100	94	Pittsburgh	0	100	94
New York	0	101	95	Baltimore	0	101	95
Detroit	0	102	96	Chicago	0	102	96
Philadelphia	0	103	97	Cincinnati	0	103	97
Pittsburgh	0	104	98	St. Louis	0	104	98
Baltimore	0	105	99	Washington	0	105	99
Chicago	0	106	100	Cleveland	0	106	100
Cincinnati	0	107	101	Detroit	0	107	101
St. Louis	0	108	102	New York	0	108	102
Washington	0	109	103	Philadelphia	0	109	103
Cleveland	0	110	104	Pittsburgh	0	110	104
New York	0	111	105	Baltimore	0	111	105
Detroit	0	112	106	Chicago	0	112	106
Philadelphia	0	113	107	Cincinnati	0	113	107
Pittsburgh	0	114	108	St. Louis	0	114	108
Baltimore	0	115	109	Washington	0	115	109
Chicago	0	116	110	Cleveland	0	116	110
Cincinnati	0	117	111	Detroit	0	117	111
St. Louis	0	118	112	New York	0	118	112
Washington	0	119	113	Philadelphia	0	119	113
Cleveland	0	120	114	Pittsburgh	0	120	114
New York	0	121	115	Baltimore	0	121	115
Detroit	0	122	116	Chicago	0	122	116
Philadelphia	0	123	117	Cincinnati	0	123	117
Pittsburgh	0	124	118	St. Louis	0	124	118
Baltimore	0	125	119	Washington	0	125	119
Chicago	0	126	120	Cleveland	0	126	120
Cincinnati	0	127	121	Detroit	0	127	121
St. Louis	0	128	122	New York	0	128	122
Washington	0	129	123	Philadelphia	0	129	123
Cleveland	0	130	124	Pittsburgh	0	130	124
New York	0	131	125	Baltimore	0	131	125
Detroit	0	132	126	Chicago	0	132	126
Philadelphia	0	133	127	Cincinnati	0	133	127
Pittsburgh	0	134	128	St. Louis	0	134	128
Baltimore	0	135	129	Washington	0	135	129
Chicago	0	136	130	Cleveland	0	136	130
Cincinnati	0	137	131	Detroit	0	137	131
St. Louis	0	138	132	New York	0	138	132
Washington	0	139	133	Philadelphia	0	139	133
Cleveland	0	140	134	Pittsburgh	0	140	134
New York	0	141	135	Baltimore	0	141	135
Detroit	0	142	136	Chicago	0	142	136
Philadelphia	0	143	137	Cincinnati	0	143	137
Pittsburgh	0	144	138	St. Louis	0	144	138
Baltimore	0	145	139	Washington	0	145	139
Chicago	0	146	140	Cleveland	0	146	140
Cincinnati	0	147	141	Detroit	0	147	141
St. Louis	0	148	142	New York	0	148	142
Washington	0	149	143	Philadelphia	0	149	143
Cleveland	0	150	144	Pittsburgh	0	150	144
New York	0	151	145	Baltimore	0	151	145
Detroit	0	152	146	Chicago	0	152	146
Philadelphia	0	153	147	Cincinnati	0	153	147
Pittsburgh	0	154	148	St. Louis	0	154	148
Baltimore	0	155	149	Washington	0	155	149
Chicago	0	156	150	Cleveland	0	156	150
Cincinnati	0	157	151	Detroit	0	157	151
St. Louis	0	158	152	New York	0	158	152
Washington	0	159	153	Philadelphia	0	159	153
Cleveland	0	160	154	Pittsburgh	0	160	154
New York	0	161	155	Baltimore	0	161	155
Detroit	0	162	156	Chicago	0	162	156
Philadelphia	0	163	157	Cincinnati	0	163	157
Pittsburgh	0	164	158	St. Louis	0	164	158
Baltimore	0	165	159	Washington	0	165	159
Chicago	0	166	160	Cleveland	0	166	160
Cincinnati	0	167	161	Detroit	0	167	161
St. Louis	0	168	162	New York	0	168	162
Washington	0	169	163	Philadelphia	0	169	163
Cleveland	0	170	164	Pittsburgh	0	170	164
New York	0	171	165	Baltimore	0	171	165
Detroit	0	172	166	Chicago	0	172	166
Philadelphia	0	173	167	Cincinnati	0	173	167
Pittsburgh	0	174	168	St. Louis	0	174</	